

The Ansen Hotel

Design Specifications

Function:

- The function of this program is to create a quick and easy hotel reservation experience. Through this layout, the staff of the hotel can add, search, and delete guest information in a simple but sleek design. The guest is also allowed to search their own information as long as they have their ID.

Aesthetics:

Materials:

- To complete this project, we used Java to code the GUI components through Eclipse and freesqldatabase.com to create the database.

Target Audience:

- Our target audience are hotels that need a system to manage reservations. We can provide a program that handles their guests' information.